Acorn Candidates Clocked in Trials

Recite, Calais Dover, High Bid, Rich Tradition Gallop Over Belmont Park Footing

By COSTY CARAS
Staff Correspondent

BELMONT PARK, Elmont, L. I., N. Y., May 12.—Rockburn Farm's Recite, a winner here last out at Jamaica, prepped for the $50,000 Acorn Stakes with a 7 furlongs jaunt in 1:26⅖ after posting impressive fractions of :47⅗ for the half mile, and 1:13⅕ for the three-quarters. Calais Dover, from the Howell E. Jackson barn and a possible starter in Saturday's fixture, was merely galloping through her work and was caught in 1:29 for 7 panels. Trainer "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons put Wheatley Stable's High Bid to a 7-furlongs trial and the bay filly responded with fractions of :48⅕, 1:13 and out her distance in 1:27 handily. High Bid will represent Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps in the Acorn. Another member of Saturday's stake field to work the Meadow Stable's Rich Tradition, who disappointed in the Kentucky Oaks. The Christopher T. Chenery-owned filly stepped a useful three-quarters of a mile in 1:14⅕, and should find the spacious Belmont racing surface more to her advantage.

Chistosa in Six-Furlong Move

Veteran conditioner Max Hirsch sent King Ranch's Chistosa 6 furlongs this bright morning over the Belmont main strip and the four-year-old daughter of Middleground—Frippone, by Shut Out, completed her task in a fashionable 1:14⅖ handily. Chistosa, who finished fourth in the Bed o' Roses, and according to many veteran race-watchers "should have had the saddle off," will be pointed for the $25,000 added Distaff Handicap which will be run here on Monday, May 25. The Distaff is a 7-furlong test for fillies and mares.

Whitley, from the W. Arnold Hanger string, winner of the Excelsior at Jamaica, continues to hold his edge and breezed 5 panels in 1:00⅖ handily, while Dotted Line, a game mare who has been chasing the opposite sex in many of her stakes appearances, was sent an easy 5 furlongs in 1:04.

Trainer John M. Gaver had members of the Greentree Stable out for training and sent Eurasia a mile in 1:45 breezing. Hilwan displayed high speed in his :59⅗ work of five furlongs and hung up fractions of :34⅖ and :46⅖ along the way. Cain Hoy Stable's Victory Morn stepped 6 furlongs in 1:14⅗ while the Cambridge Stable's Pilot covered the same distance in 1:14 breezing. Trainer E. Barry Ryan sent Reinzi 5 furlongs in 1:01 handily while Laudy Lawrence's Beau Diable was moving easily during his half mile travel in :47⅘. Bridgework stepped a half mile in :48⅗ while Polamby covered the same distance in :48. Polamby's work came from the starting gate.

Trainer Johnny Nerud used the Belmont training strip as the scene of Ask the Prince's 5-panel 1:00 move and C. Mahlon Kline's Greek Discovery dashed 4 furlongs in :49 over the same training strip.

Plan Separate Headquarters For Steeplechase Performers

By "CHUCK" CONNORS

BELMONT PARK, Elmont, L. I., N. Y., May 12.—John W. Hanes, president of the New York Racing Association, has for some time been engaged on a proposition to alleviate the stable shortage for the Long Island tracks. He and his associates for the past few months have searched Long Island as far east as Smithtown and from the north to the south shores in quest of acreage on which to erect a steeplechase headquarters. The site, if acquired, will be equipped with a schooling course, stables, loading platforms, dormitories and a kitchen. The steeplechase and hurdle horses will be centered on the site during the summer and fall, when racing is conducted at Belmont Park and Aqueduct. It also can be pressed into service, as an emergency stopover, for horses that are vanned here for overnight engagements.

Mr. Hanes pointed out that several such sites had been located but when the objective was made known, more zoning laws were uncovered than pre-election promises were made from the stump. Mr. Hanes agreed that New York is suffering from an acute shortage when it came to stable accommodations and while the situation will be eased with the opening of Aqueduct this fall, these additional stables will fall short of the requirements according to the applications on file. New York at present has accommodations for 2,200 horses at Belmont Park and Jamaica.

When the final decision as to the future of Jamaica is made, New York will be in the position of stabling the same as today, 2,200 or 2,700. This number falls much below the present available stable room at Miami. Hialeah has 1,250 stalls, Gulfstream 900 and Tropical Park 1,000, for a total of 3,150. However, Miami, unlike New York, is not shackled by civic ordinances as to the construction of stables and facilities can be expanded at will, subject to the sites available.

Owners of 'Chasers Object

Several steeplechase men in discussing the proposed center, voiced objections. Their main point was that under the proposed conditions they would be called upon to split their stables, leaving the flat horses here and the jumpers at the center, thus doubling the overhead expenses. Many owners who prefer steeplechasing to flat racing carry a half dozen or so non-jumpers. The ultimate aim, according to Paddock Gang members, is that the flat horses will be converted into steeplechasers or hurdlers. In the latter classification, they can double in brass, as the old saying goes. They can hurdle and race over the flat. This double life, as it were, would provide a stay of grace from vanning the hurdler to the proposed steeplechase center.

Trainer Casey Hayes set his alarm clock for an unholy hour this morning, half past three, rolled out of bed when the alarm woke up half of Belmont Park, had First Landing readied for his trip to Pimlico and the Preakness, watched the grooms and van men load him, witnessed the doors closed and said happy motoring as the van rolled away in the darkness. That was a few minutes to four and then Casey decided it was time to get some coffee and go to work training the other horses he has here. Around 10 o'clock, the phone at the stable rang and the news that First Landing had arrived at Pimlico in good shape following an uneventful trip was made known. Casey will go down on Thursday to supervise the final "blowout" while Arcaro will plane down Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Chenery will also leave for Baltimore on Saturday to lend moral support to his champion and then motor down to his farm, Doswell, Va., to spend Sunday relaxing and studying the charts and the newspaper comments.

Sylvestre Attends Opening

Mrs. Dodge Sloane, who maintains the Brookmeade Stable, completed arrangements to leave for Baltimore on Friday. She will be represented in the Preakness by Sword Dancer. Jockey Shoemaker will do the riding and trainer Elliot Burch the saddling. Shoemaker will plane back to Hollywood Park after the race while Sword Dancer, Mrs. Sloane and Burch will head for New York and Belmont Park . . . Mrs. Mae Walsh, one of the better show horse riders and enthusiasts in the country, was among those present yesterday.

Allie Sylvestre, the nonagenarian, was present for the opening day, seated in his

O'Keeffe to Head East

NORTH RANDALL, Ohio, May 12.—John O'Keefe, general manager of ThistleDown, will make his final missionary tour of the season in the interests of this Cleveland track. O'Keefe will be at Pimlico on Saturday to view the Preakness and to contact horsemen interested in nominating for the seven stakes to be run at his track this year. Top event on the ThistleDown stakes schedule is the $28,000 added Ohio Derby which will be run on Saturday, June 20.

On-and-On, Fightin Indian, Oceanic II. and Die Hard May Meet in Homewood Test

HOMEWOOD, Ill., May 12.—Several of the Midwest's more promising three-year-olds, headed by W. G. Gilmore's California invader, Fightin Indian, Calumet Farm's On-and-On, and Hasty House Farm's imported Oceanic II., head the roster of 16 nominations for Balmoral's opening-day feature, the $15,000-added Tri-State Stakes, Monday, at Washington Park.

Also named for the new 6 furlongs stakes, which honors the nearby Tri-State Tollway, are Carrie C. Hillock's Quantrell, who finished a close-up third to First Landing in the second division of the Derby Trial.

Also expected to see action in Monday's Tri-State are Jacnot Stable's Kentucky Derby starter, Die Hard, and Silver Creek Farm's fleet Roman Colonel, who won three straight at Gulfstream Park.

Fightin Indian placed in several stakes at Santa Anita last winter, including a third-place finish behind Silver Spoon and Royal Orbit in the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby after setting a blistering pace. The Molter trainee has been working in splendid style since arriving with Round Table last month.

Won on Derby Day Program

On-and-On gained almost as much fame in not starting in the Kentucky Derby as most of the participants got. The Calumet colt, a son of Nasrullah—Two Lea, thus a half brother to the ill-fated Tim Tam, scored on the Derby program in a 6 furlongs allowance sprint preceding the Run for the Roses. Earlier, he nipped Dunce in a quick sprint at Keeneland. On-and-On is being groomed for the Arlington Classic and American Derby.

Oceanic II. was being prepared for the Derby and Preakness by trainer Harry Trotsek before setbacks slowed up progress. It was decided the French import should by-pass the Preakness, ship to Chicago and begin preparations for the rich three-year-old stakes here.

More top stables and top-rated horses are quartered at Washington Park than at any other time since the Balmoral Jockey Club joined the coordinated program with Arlington Park and Washington Park in 1955.

Juvenile Fillies Clash in Rancocas Today
Well-Bred Wheatley Entry Appears Strong
Brave Pilot and Bases Full N. Y. Winners

GARDEN STATE PARK, Camden, N. J., May 12.—Wednesday it's the 17th running of the 5-furlong Rancocas Stakes, worth $19,000 for this edition, with a proposed field of 13 juvenile fillies. There are few contests more intriguing than the early two-year-old races. The Rancocas has never failed to whet the appetite of the prognosticators and those merely interested in following the development of the little princesses who may develop into the queens of tomorrow. As a medium for speculation it is equally fascinating. Who knows what speed or heart is contained within these young fillies until they are thoroughly tested? In the matter of guessing, the public is almost certain to fix their attention on the invading Wheatley entry of Brave Pilot and Bases Full. They have been winning in New York and have the blood of champions coursing through their veins. Sam Boulmetis is named to ride both as this is written and trainer Jim Fitzsimmons may decide one is strong enough to represent the famous Wheatley colors of Mrs. H. C. Phipps.

There appears little to choose between the Wheatley fillies from their record thus far, although Bases Full tends to be a sentimental choice because of her being a daughter of the fine filly, Striking. The latter is remembered as the winner of the Schuylerville Stakes in her own juvenile year, and as a full sister to the wonderful Busher, Mr. Busher and others of that distinguished clan; sons and daughter of War Admiral—Baby League, by Bubbling Over. The daughter is by Ambiorix, a French imported son of Tourbillon and a Pharos mare whom Arthur "Bull" Hancock Jr., mentioned to this writer as being the most underrated stallion at his Claiborne farm. Bases Full won by 10 lengths in her last start at Jamaica, which appears promising, to say the least. Brave Pilot has won two of her three starts and she is a daughter of the fleet Jet Pilot—Narrative, by War Relic.

Several Others Worth Watching

Of the fillies who have appeared in local competition, the best to show thus far seems to have been Mrs. B. S. Wright Jr.'s Improve. In a prep for the Rancocas last week, she was bounced off stride leaving the gate, then proved her courage by recovering to finish with a rush behind a shifty filly named Miss Thing. The latter, unfortunately, was a modest purchase as a juvenile and is not a Rancocas eligible. John W. Kane and Wm. E. Charles Jr.'s Ebbie's Girl finished third in that race and she also figures to improve off of the effort. Her excuse was in being forced to race very wide and she was continuing strongly at the end. The (Bill) Hartack supporters, and there are many, will place their faith in Miss Twin Lane, a daughter of Eight Thirty and the gallant stakes winning Canina. Her Bull Dog dam was small but mighty, and was one of the most courageous mares to ever take the bit in her teeth.

The Homestretch: Harry Isaacs, viewing Intentionally in the paddock prior to his flashy triumph in the Delaware Valley, commented that the colt was more composed than when beaten in the Gotham and Wood, his two previous starts. To accustom the colt to the crowds, trainer Eddie Kelly gave him an excursion of the paddock during the races two days before. . . . Mrs. Edmundson, pleased with the winning race by Wise Margin on Saturday, says he will point the Sam Tufano-owned horse for the $50,000 added Camden, on May 23. Wise Margin, now nine years old, in his younger days won the Massachusetts Handicap and Pimlico Cup.

A Dragon Killer Eyes Camden

Mrs. S. Helene Sadacca's A Dragon Killer has been shipped in for the Camden. He is the "giant killer" who won last summer's Arlington Classic and the Ventnor Turf Handicap at Atlantic City. . . . Resseguet & Weiner's Eternal Bim and the Argonne Stable's Grand Wizard returned the wiser to New England after competing unsuccessfully against Intentionally in the Delaware Valley. Lester Sauvic, who trains Grand Wizard, reports that New Orleans owner Lloyd Mistrot is still suffering from the "Derby fever" disease contracted during the torrid week at Louisville and explained that as the reason for his absence. . . . Returning here with no better luck was Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Air Pilot, who Jack Leonard says did not like the grass at Pimlico Saturday in the Dixie. "He ran like he didn't know where to put his feet."

Jockey Arthur Sherman has developed into one of the better journeymen and is the regular pilot for Triple M Farm's Tinkalero. Of the latter, incidentally, he says she "just wasn't herself" when beaten out of the money for the first time this season last month in New England. . . . Tomy Lee, the horse, went to California and Tommy Lee, the jockey, came to Garden State. Lee, who has been riding this spring in Maryland, was born in Canton, China but grew up in Ocean City, N. J., where he graduated from high school.

Many Young Trainers Get Start in Yankeeland
Pete Catrone Began His Career at Age of 20
Joe Spinale One of Most Underrated Riders

SUFFOLK DOWNS, East Boston, Mass., May 12.—Being a youth on the New England racing circuit is not a handicap, in fact it is often a blessing. When it comes to riders and trainers, probably nowhere else in the country have as many careers been launched as here. Especially where trainers are concerned. Over the years a good many lads, just barely past their second decade, were granted trainer's licenses and went on to better things. Off hand there comes to mind youths like George Handy, W. C. "Mike" Freeman, Red Ness, Pete Gacicia, Tony Cataldi, all of whom made good not only here but on other circuits. There have been numerous others, who are content to train a few horses for themselves and perhaps an outside patron or two. They seldom make headlines, because they are not handlers of stakes horses, but they are professional horsemen who earn their living with cheap horses.

One of this type is Pete Catrone, a dark-haired, dark-eyed young man who will be 28 next week. But he has had a trainer's license since 1951, when he just reached the age of one score and one. A native of East Boston, Catrone began working around the backstretch since he was a kid on summer vacations. Such early endeavors are outlawed now, as the law demands no one under 16 may be admitted to a race track, and that includes the stable area. In Catrone's younger days it was not so, and fortunately he began his career early. By the way, this branch of the Catrone's is distantly related to that of Frank Catrone, the former crack rider and successful trainer in his own right in New Jersey.

Saddled First Winner in '51

After completing junior high, Pete joined the stable of Eddie Anspach and from the years 1948 to 1951 worked his way up to foreman of the outfit. It was a quartet of years well spent for Catrone, as Anspach is one of the top men in the training profession. Catrone got his license in 1951, went out and bought his first horse, Winola, and it wasn't long before he had the honor of saddling a winner. It took only three starts before Winola got the job done. Another horse he had quick success with was Bassington, with whom he won seven races one season. Catrone has also raced in Florida and Maryland, but this past winter spent the chilly season at the Pine Tree Farm in Framingham. His best year so far was 1955 when he won 14 races with only three horses. This year he has grown a bit in quantity and has seven horses for the H.R.T. stable. The latter is owned by Michael Angulio, a Medford, Mass., restaurateur who entered the business late in 1958. For the H.R.T. outfit, Catrone went to Jamaica last month and purchased a three-year-old filly named Etoile du Nord. In her new colors she immediately became a winner.

Monday Etoile du Nord made her second appearance of the meeting and finished second at odds-on. A flock of pigeons at the head of the stretch took flight as Etoile du Nord came around the turn on the lead and the filly, in quest of her second straight score, put on the brakes abruptly. While this would have qualified for any excuse with most other riders, little Joe Spinale denied it the next morning. "Something bothered her as we came into the stretch," remarked Joe, "it may have been pigeons. But she was trying to lay the body down and might have used that for an excuse. She gets late in most of her races, did it in New York too. I don't think we could have beaten that other horse (Grey Haze) if we went round again." One thing about Spinale; he doesn't go around looking for excuses. If his horse is beaten squarely, he puts up no phony defense for it as so many other riders can do.

Follows in Brother's Footsteps

One of the most underrated riders on the grounds is Joe Spinale, the elders of the Spinale brothers. Joe gets very little in the way of mounts. Yet though he had only about 20 at the meeting, he had three winners and a couple of seconds. Another odd thing about Joe is that he doesn't even have an agent. A natural lightweight who scales just over 100 pounds, he has plenty of ability, but doesn't get the chances he deserves. The odd thing is that just about the same fate befell his younger brother Vinnie. After a big year as an apprentice rider, Vinnie couldn't buy a mount. Then last year he teamed up with Dick Gottsman, who used him on his horses. Gottsman and Spinale became top men at most of the New England sessions and Vinnie was leading rider, or near it, throughout the year. The more he won with Gottsman's horses, the more, and livlier, mounts he got from other trainers. Vinnie was rolling again. With any sort of break, Joe could regain the heights he once knew when he was the top bug boy around here some years ago.

Jockeys at Suffolk Downs should be the best tanned in the nation. Judge John Pappas has come up with another first for New England tracks—sun deck atop the jockeys' quarters. Construction on the solarium was started early this week and the new lounge and tan department will be located atop the jockeys' room in the administration building . . . B. A. Dario, executive director of Lincoln Downs, president Henry Lapan and secretary Pete Smith were all present the other afternoon for some sport.

Coasters Analyze Triple Crown Status
West's New Role in Proving Up 'Tops'
Term 'Crown' Created by the Press

HOLLYWOOD PARK, Inglewood, Calif., May 12.—Certain Westerners have suddenly become vocal in their opinion of "Triple Crown" publicity now that the Preakness is at hand, and the consensus here in Southern California may be summarized something like this: The Kentucky Derby, Preakness, and Belmont are great and worthy stakes in their own right, but their grouping into a so-called Triple Crown series is becoming more and more misleading to the public and its basis in cold fact, once clearly admitted, is no longer valid. According to a brochure issued by the Thoroughbred Racing Association the Triple Crown was not recognized as such until Whirlaway's year, 1941, and we quote from Spencer Drayton, "The Triple Crown was so named by the press." Drayton is right although he might have gone further and given credit where it was due, to the facile and imaginative mind of our colleague, Charlie Hatton.

Circumstances at the time made Hatton's description apt, fitting, and proper. But the vast growth of American racing since 1941, including the rise to prestige of California, the expansion of major three-year-old stakes at Arlington-Washington parks, the attractiveness of Atlantic City and Monmouth Park stakes, and other factors too numerous to mention in detail have seen a trend toward dispersion, or shall we say diversification, of the three-year-old division rather than a centering toward the Triple Crown races as the only way to prove the greatness of a three-year-old.

Swaps, Determine Went Home

Swaps, the first California-bred, owned, and trained horse to win the Kentucky Derby, put the first crack in the Triple Crown. After his victory over Nashua in the Derby, shipped back to California rather than on to Pimlico, although to be fair about it, trainer "Mesh" Tenney later told us that had he been fully aware of the prestige of the Triple Crown, as it then existed, he would have gone on to Pimilco, and perhaps even to Belmont. As it turned out, Swaps rose to admitted greatness without benefit of either the Preakness or Belmont. The year before Swaps, Kentucky-bred, but California adopted, Determine, did exactly the same thing.

Now this year, we have the Derby winner, Tomy Lee, soaking in the Southern California sunshine awaiting the $100,000 Hollywood Derby. Prior to the Kentucky Derby running, trainer Frank Childs flatly announced that if Tomy Lee won the Derby, he would try for the Preakness but under no circumstances the Belmont, but day-to-day developments dictated a change in plan, and he came west instead of going East. The great filly, Silver Spoon, in her Derby excursion, had a plane on order for the Sunday morning following the Derby, regardless, and that plane, needless to say, headed for the Pacific Coast immediately after take-off.

Westerns go further and say that the quality upcoming in the $100,000 Hollywood Derby would entitle this race to be rated right along with the three Triple Crown races and although calling such a series the "quadruple crown" would be a little unwieldly, the decision of a "champion" on a true national basis would almost of necessity make one far western race worthy of consideration. Jim Stewart, vice-president and general manager of Hollywood Park, smiled as he observed, "you can't arouse any quarrel with us of the proposition that a true champion would have to prove himself up in all sections of the country and it was not just an accident that we changed the name of the Westerner to the Hollywood Derby.

New Name More Significant

The very name "Westerner" conjured up the idea of sectionalism, or perhaps regionalism is the better word, but the Hollywood Derby by its very name implies a championship race. We did not hesitate to use the word "Derby" because an intensive study has convinced us the word has become generic in the American language for a top three-year-old contest of both speed and stamina. If the public wants to include us in it when it comes to divisional or Horse of the Year honors later in the year, we'll buy that package gladly. I am aware that in Horse of the Year voting, the experts of Daily Racing Form and The Morning Telegraph do the actual voting but I think their ratings and that of the public pretty much agree."

The current Triple Crown series has one disadvantage for some horses, (e.g. Tomy Lee, Silver Spoon) in that the races are too close together for a three-year-old who needs spacing of racing endeavors, and, with the hundreds of thousands dollars worth of other prestige three-year-old races later in the season, like the Arlington Classic in Chicago, the Hollywood Derby here it doesn't make sense to over-race a horse in the spring just to complete in the Triple Crown. To quote again from Drayton, "it was not until 1950, when the TRA board of directors voted to create a trophy for the past and future winners, that it took on a sort of official stature." Reading between these lines, it was good press and public relations for racing.

Officials Begin Checking In for Ak-Sar-Ben Meet

Take Over Advance Preparations For Season Opening on Friday

Paradise meeting. Mills will be paddock judge again this year in Omaha.

Billy Mills is due to arrive from Ascot Park in Ohio where he has been dispatching the fields. Prior to that meeting he held the same post at Santa Anita. He will be in his fourth year here as starter.

John L. Watkins arrived from his home in Buckeye Lake, Ohio. Watkins will again be clerk of scales. He acted as placing judge during the Oaklawn Park meeting at Hot Springs.

James West, patrol judge here, arrived from his home in Phoenix. During the winter he is identifier for the Arizona Racing Commission, and also serves as racing secretary at all of the Fair meetings in his home state.

Expected to arrive some time prior to opening day is Charles Mullaney, veteran western racing official. Mullaney just completed a stint at Los Alimitos Quarter Horse meeting, and prior to that served in official capacity during the Harness and Quarter Horse meeting at Bay Meadows. He will assist Champagne here as placing judge.

James Wallace will check in Thursday from Fonner Park where he relieved Ralph Boomer as state steward during the final days of the Grand Island meeting. Wallace was assistant secretary and patrol judge at the recently concluded Turf Paradise meeting in Phoenix.

Irving Anderson, former top rider for Calumet Farm, will be in his first year here as patrol judge. He will complete the meeting at Fonner Park in time to take up his duties at Ak-Sar-Ben. Anderson was paddock and patrol judge during the Fonner Park meet.

Charles M. Brown, veteran clocker, has been on hand for some 10 days. He will again be timer during this meeting. Brown was active in a similar capacity during the meeting at Oaklawn Park.

Arlan Ward, custodian of the jockeys' room, arrived from Phoenix where he served in the same capacity during both the Turf Paradise and Arizona Downs meetings.

Meanwhile, the task of registering the many thoroughbreds to be seen in action here is well ahead of schedule, and capacity fields are practically assured for the opening-day program on Friday.

Jim's Pal Ridden Out For Popular Ascot Win

Fourth Successful Favorite in First Five Races to Be Contested

the 7-furlong route with the Hawley matron three and a half lengths clear of Vici Shan at the end of the trip. Quite Well paid $5.20 with the double enough to give Smithson the temporary lead over Richard E. Young in the rider's standings.

Favorite players had a heyday in the opening races and two favorite combined in the Daily Double events for a $14.00 payoff.

Both Char-Mar Farm's Vyr and Kaufman and Gray's Cap Merrick paid identical mutuels of $4.60 in winning their respective races with Vina a two and a half-length winner over a field of maidens in the opener. Norman Cartwright had the mount on the Stone Age—Vinina filly, who skipped over a sloppy 6½-furlongs in 1:25 for her initial victory. It was the fifth winner saddled by youthful Bob Holthus, who gave up a career as a clocker for this newspaper to take over the general manager position of Mrs. Blanche Koring's Char-Mar Farm at Evansville, Indiana.

Guy Smithson again moved into a tie with Richard Young in the hectic battle for leading rider here as he scored by four lengths with Cap Merrick, who was clocked in :54⅕ over the Ascot course. The win was Smithson's 23rd and the first of the 1959 campaign for Cap Merrick.

Different Second Time

There will never be another thoroughbred named Man o' War—The Jockey Club rules for the naming of horses forbid it—but there was a Man o' War prior to Big Red. Racing in cheap races around New York in 1901 the first Man o' War started 26 times but failed to make an impression. The late Henry V. King, turf-writer for the late New York Sun, once queried veteran trainers regarding the early Man o' War only to find that while James Fitzsimmons,

Brothers Ride Dead Heat

The opening race on the card at Los Alamitos on April 16, 1958, brought a finish as stirring as they come, with half of the eight-horse field passing the finish line almost as a team. The photo revealed that Penny Wheep had won by a nose, with Little Hot Shot and Ariel Jeep deadheating for second place, just a nose in front of Gray Air. A novelty of the dead heat was that Little Hot Shot and Ariel Jeep were ridden by Darrell Banks and his brother, Ronald, respectively.

Explanation of Optional Claiming Races

An OPTIONAL CLAIMING race is one restricted to horses running or having previously run for a stated claiming price and the term OPTIONAL CLAIMING means just what the name implies, the owner having the option of entering his horse for a price (eligible to be claimed) or not entering his horse for a price (not eligible to be claimed). If an owner does not want to enter his horse to be claimed, his horse must meet the "optional conditions" set down by the racing secretary in order to be eligible to compete. These conditions appear in the past performances preceding each race. All horses who race in optional claimers, but are not entered to be claimed must have raced at some time for a specified claiming price to obtain a classification, and they must again race for a claiming price if the owner wishes to reclassify his horse in a lower category. Also, winners of optional claiming races when entered NOT eligible to be claimed, can not be eligible for the same class of race UNLESS entered eligible to be claimed.
